Portraits

Starting around 1973 I was part of a large collective of artists and musicians in Tuscaloosa Alabama. This eclectic group developed into a large Dada group and a smaller surrealist group. I made many photographs of our numerous performances and exhibitions. These were portraits and photographs of parades and theatrical performances as Raudelunas and Trans Music.

Most people in the group had an alias and mine was Miss Hathaway. The most notorious was Tim Reed as Reverend Tim Lane – an irreverent combination of Frank Sinatra, an evangelical minister and an explorer.

Hawaii

Honolulu Hawaii

Honolulu, the largest city in Hawaii, is a popular tourist location known for beautiful beaches and diverse mixture of people from around the world. The most striking landmark is the extinct volcano Diamond Head that is easily seen from land or sea. Another is the historic Royal Hawaiian Hotel located on Waikiki Beach.

Virginia

Virginia Vineyards

Wine has been produced in Virginia since the early days of European colonization in the 17th century. That tradition continues today with over 200 wineries making Virginia the fifth in the nations for acreage and grape production. Most vineyards are located in central and northern Virginia just east of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Colonial Williamsburg Holiday Wreaths

Every year Colonial Williamsburg holds a holiday wreath competition in the historic area. Decorations can only be made of materials that would have been available in the colonial town in the 1700s. Many of the shops use a theme that reflects their wares so for example a store that sells wine or beer might have corks as part of the wreath.

Blue Ridge Mountains

The Blue Ridge Mountains are part of the larger Appalachian Mountains range located in the eastern United States. The scenic Blue Ridge Parkway connects the Shenandoah National Park, in the north, and the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, in the south. The Blue Ridge Parkway has locations where visitors can stop to easily see and photograph the beautiful views.

ABOUT

Two photos

Janice Hathaway

Janice Hathaway is a surrealist, artist, photographer, designer and educator. Janice has been taking photographs since the 1970s and has continued to do over the years wherever she lives or travels. Many photographs are primarily used as collage materials to create her two-dimensional and sculptural surrealist collage. Other photographs are portraits of her family and friends. Over the years Janice has made many photographs of musicians, dancers and theater productions.

Janice is a Professor of Computer Arts at Thomas Nelson Community College where she started teaching in 2008. Prior to moving to Virginia, she lived in Hawaii for twenty years and taught at Kapi'olani Community College in Honolulu, Hawaii. Janice has a Bachelor of Fine Arts and a Master of Fine Arts in Printmaking and Photography, from the University of Alabama.

Janice began working as a surrealist in 1973 when she became a founding member of the Alabama surrealist group, now known as Fresh Dirt, and still continues to publish and exhibit internationally as part of the international surrealist movement.
